TIPS FOR A SUCCESSFUL STORYTIME

Sit, sing, and listen to stories together.

The more you participate, the more your child will participate, enjoy, and learn.

Please be on time.

Storytimes are short and every minute is full of fun and learning opportunities.

Don't be afraid to leave.

Some days children aren't in the right mood for storytime. If your child is having a bad day or becomes disruptive, please feel free to take a break and try again.

Please enjoy your food, toys, and cell phones after storytime.

Distractions take away from enjoyment and learning for everyone. There may be children with food sensitivities or allergies in storytime.

In addition to attending storytime, we recommend trying TumbleBooks, a collection of animated talking picture books, Read-Alongs, and eBooks that can be used at home from the library's website. Go to www.lincolnlibraries.org/kids to explore!

WHY READ ALOUD?

There is an easy way to improve your child's chances at school. It will entertain and delight them. It will strengthen the bonds between you and your child. And it is virtually free.

Sound too good to be true? Actually, it isn't. The magical method: taking time to read aloud to your child.

In an era of high-stakes testing and education reforms and revolutions, research has repeatedly provided that this one simple parenting technique is among the most effective. Children who are read aloud to by parents get a head start in language and literacy skills and go to school better prepared.

Reading aloud to young children promotes literacy and language development and supports the relationship between child and parent.

In other words, reading that bedtime story may not only entertain and soothe your child, it may also develop vocabulary, improve ability to learn to read, and - perhaps most important - foster a lifelong love of books and reading.
