

Karrie and Steph's Booktalk – November 3, 2017 – Karrie's Books

Fall of Marigolds by Susan Meissner
Alternating between 1911's Clara, who lost her love in the Triangle Shirtwaist Fire and 2011's Taryn, who lost her husband in the 9/11 attacks. What do they both have in common? A marigold scarf that has traveled through many generations.

A Piece of the World by Christina Kline
Part fact, part fiction, this is the story of Christina Olsen, who lived a small life, in a cold Maine town. As her life passes her by, she becomes more shut off from the world, until Andy Wyeth (a painter) shows up at her door. Eventually she becomes the subject of a famous 20th-century work of art.

Ill Will by Dan Chaon
Thirty years ago, Dustin's parents were killed and his brother, Rusty was charged with the murders. All these years later, Rusty is proven innocent and being released from jail.

Lily and the Octopus by Steven Rowley
“This is the story about that special someone; the one you trust, the one you can't live without. For Ted Flask, that someone special is his aging companion Lily, who happens to be a dog.”

Talking as Fast as I Can by Lauren Graham
Autobiography focusing on Graham's difficulty in becoming an actress, how she was one audition from walking away, and how Gilmore Girls changed her life.

Beartown by Fredrik Bachman
Beartown is a Hockey town. But after a star hockey player is accused of sexual assault, Beartown becomes a town that has to make a choice about where their loyalties lie.

All the Missing Girls by Megan Miranda
It's been 15 days since Annaliese Carter's death. But she's not the first girl who has disappeared from Cooley Ridge.

The Tea Girl of Hummingbird Lane by Lisa See
The interwoven story of Li-yan, a Chinese woman, the baby girl she was forced to give up and the tea that shaped their lives.

The Dinner by Herman Koch
Two families, having dinner, trying to cover up a crime committed by their sons. Just like any family. Any dark, sociopathic family!

The Hate you Give by Angie Thomas
When Starr is the only witness to a police-shooting, she must decide what she wants her story and her legacy to be.

Karrie and Steph's Booktalk – November 3, 2017 – Steph's Books

	Since We Fell by Dennis Lehane After an on-air mental breakdown, journalist Rachel Childs lives as a virtual recluse, but still enjoys a loving relationship with her supportive husband... until a chance encounter throws her sheltered world upside down.		The Power of Habit: Why We Do What We Do in Life and Business by Charles Duhigg Anecdotal look at why habits exist and how we might change them.
	Be Frank with Me by Julia Claiborne Johnson Alice jumps at the opportunity to assist reclusive literary legend M.M. Banning in writing her first book in decades, but too late finds out that it really entails becoming a companion to the author's precocious 9 year old son.		Origin by Dan Brown Join Robert Langdon in a chase through art, architecture, symbology, and religion to reveal the answer to the fundamental question Where do we come from?
	Miss Kopp's Midnight Confessions by Amy Stewart Third in the historical fiction series of Constance Kopp, one of the nation's first female deputies.		Burning Bright by Nick Petrie War veteran Peter Ash helps an investigative reporter stay one step ahead of the men who are pursuing her while he helps her to unravel the mystery of her mother's death.
	Eleanor Oliphant is Completely Fine by Gail Honeyman After a traumatic childhood Eleanor has become accustomed to maintaining a rigid and reclusive schedule, until a string of events finds her growing into the person she never realized she could be.		Magpie Murders by Anthony Horowitz The first half of this book is Magpie Murders, the final mystery novel in Alan Conway's wildly popular detective series; the second half is publisher Susan Ryeland trying to detect who killed Mr. Conway before he could finish writing it.
	Glass Houses by Louise Penny A lone, dark figure stands in the middle of Three Pines, motionless for days in the rain and sleet, and when it finally disappears a body is discovered in its wake.		Missing, Presumed by Susie Steiner Cambridge detective Manon Bradshaw hits resistance among senior staff when she starts to dig deeper to solve a missing person case.

Karrie's Extras: Gwendy's Button Box by Stephen King

The Handmaid's Tale by Margaret Atwood

Big Little Lies (TV series on DVD)