

The Booker Prize winner will be announced November 17, 2020.

The Booker Prize shortlist, was just announced September 15, 2020:

The Booker Prize longlist, known as “The Booker Dozen” (13 novels):

- Shortlisted *The New Wilderness*by Diane Cook (from USA)
Shortlisted *This Mournable Body*by Tsitsi Dangarembga (from Zimbabwe)
Shortlisted *Burnt Sugar*by Avni Doshi (from USA)
Who They Wasby Gabriel Krauze (from United Kingdom)
The Mirror & The Lightby Hilary Mantel (from United Kingdom)
Apeirogonby Colum McCann (from Ireland/USA)
Shortlisted *The Shadow King*by Maaza Mengiste (from Ethiopia/USA)
Such a Fun Ageby Kiley Reid (from USA)
Shortlisted *Shuggie Bain*by Douglas Stuart (from Scotland/USA)
Shortlisted *Real Life*by Brandon Taylor (from USA)
Redhead by the Side of the Roadby Anne Tyler (from USA)
Love & Other Thought Experimentsby Sophie Ward (from United Kingdom)
How Much of These Hills is Goldby C Pam Zhang (from USA)

The International Booker Prize winner was announced Aug. 26, 2020:

The Discomfort of Evening by Marieke Lucas Rijneveld

The International Booker Prize shortlist was announced April 2, 2020:

- The Enlightenment of the Greengage Tree* by Shokoofeh Azar (Farsi-Iran), translated by Anonymous
The Adventures of China Iron by Gabriela Cabezón Cámara (Spanish-Argentina), translated by Iona Macintyre and Fiona Mackintosh
Tyll by Daniel Kehlmann (Germany-German) translated by Ross Benjamin
Hurricane Season by Fernanda Melchor (Spanish-Mexico), translated by Sophie Hughes
The Memory Police by Yoko Ogawa (Japanese-Japan), translated by Stephen Snyder
The Discomfort of Evening by Marieke Lucas Rijneveld (Dutch-Netherlands), translated by Michele Hutchison

The International Booker Prize longlist was announced Feb. 27, 2020

The eight (8) books on the longlist that didn't make the shortlist were:

- Red Dog* by Willem Anker -from South Africa; written in Afrikaans; translated by Michiel Heyns
The Enlightenment of The Greengage Tree by Shokoofeh Azar -from Iran; written in Farsi (anon. translator)
The Other Name: Septology I-II by Jon Fosse –from Norway; written in Norwegian; translated by Damion Searls
The Eighth Life by Nino Haratischvili –from the country Georgia; written in German; translated by Charlotte Collins & Ruth Martin
Serotonin by Michel Houellebecq –from France; written in French; translated by Shaun Whiteside
Faces on the Tip of My Tongue by Emmanuelle Pagano –from France; written in French; translated by Sophie Lewis & Jennifer Higgins
Little Eyes by Samanta Schweblin –from Argentina; written in Spanish; translated by Megan McDowell
Mac & His Problem by Enrique Vila-Matas –from Spain; written in Spanish; translated by Margaret Jull Costa & Sophie Hughes